KMDD-seminars and workshops are taught by teachers who possess a valid KMDD-Trainer Certificate.

KMDD-Trainer Certificate

- in preparation -

This KMDD-Trainer certificate affirms that its owner can effectively and responsibly train KMDD-Teachers.

The syllabus for the certification program as a KMDD-Trainer will be defined in the master program "Moral-Democratic Competence Education." This will include

- experience in leading KMDD and Discussion Theater sessions as a certified KMDD-Teacher
- participation in KMDD seminars
- teaching practice with all modules of the workshop-seminar for KMDD-teachers
- assessment of teaching efficacy with the objective Moral Competence Test (MCT) and other methods
- peer-supervision with learning partners
- research project to advance the KMDD and its psychological foundations.

Upon the successful completion of their study, graduates will receive the KMDD-Trainer certificate, will be registered on the KMDD-website, and allowed to use the "KMDD" mark for advertisement.

KMDD-Trainers must conduct one supervised and fully documented KMDD-session (Discussion Theater) and one supervision per year to uphold their certificate.

Quality-management: In order to maintain and improve their quality, the KMDD and the KMDD-teacher training programs are rigorously assessed for teaching efficacy.

Why Moral Competence Education?

SOCRATES:

But if this be affirmed, then the desire of the good is common to all, and one man is no better than another in that respect?
And if one man is not better than another in desiring the good, he must be better in the power of attaining it?

The KMDD has been developed on the basis of many years of research (Lind 2019) in order to promote moral-democratic competence effectively and efficiently:

- As Socrates said, everyone desires the good, that is, everyone shares universal moral principles like freedom, justice, cooperation and truth. They are innate.
- However, their application inevitably leads to problems and conflicts of decision (dilemmas). Their solution requires moral competence. Moral competence is the ability to solve problems and conflicts through thinking and discussion, instead of through ignorance, violence and deceit, or through submission to an authority.

As many studies show, a minimum level of moral competence is needed in order to behave morally, that is, to act according to our own moral principles.

- Therefore, if we want people to behave according morally, we must promote their moral competence.
- Moral competence develops only when it is used. The biggest obstacles for the development of moral competence is the lack of suitable learning opportunities, which may be caused by lack of time, by prohibitions, and/or by a refusal to face such tasks because of fear of failure.

The KMDD offers a favorable learning environment and suitable exercises for the development of moral competence. When used correctly, it fosters it very effectively with little costs of time and money.

However, for the correct and effective use of the KMDD, a thorough training and certification is necessary.
